CHARLES R. O'CONNOR NEW HEAD OF PROSPEROUS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Judge Fowler, C. S. Treadwell and Sherman E. Eighmey New Directors—Treasurer's Report Shows $900 Balance and No Debts—Other Officers Elected at Annual Meeting.

That the Chamber of Commerce has paid a $620 deficit, wiped out under indebtedness of $1,392, now owes nothing and ended the year 1919 with over $900 balance on hand, were the outstanding features in the reports submitted at the annual meeting on Tuesday evening. That this has been done on a net revenue of only a trifle over $9,000 and in a year of high cost and everything is the more remarkable. Nor has the work of the organization halted, as is shown by reports that were merely a reminder and a reiteration of what everyone knows of the progress of Kingston in the past year.

There were 204 ballots cast in the election and these were counted by the tellers, A. D. Rose, Arthur Burns, A. D. Parson, Willis Hills and Louis M. Burns. The new directors elected were Judge Joseph M. Fowler, C. S. Treadwell and Sherman E. Eighmey.

Charles R. O'Connor was elected president; William J. Turck, vice president; W. C. Kington, second vice president; Cornelius S. Treadwell, secretary; and Sydney D. M. Hudson, secretary at a meeting of the board of directors immediately following the counting of the ballots in the election of directors.

After brief remarks from the newly elected officers the annual report was presented and the meeting adjourned. The reports were as follows:

That of President Herbert: Gentlemen and members of the Chamber of Commerce:

A full account of the activities and accomplishments of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, for the year 1919, will be given to you in the report of the secretary and I believe that a perusal of his report will be a source of profitable information and satisfaction to our members. I would like to be here to refer to what seems to me to be some of the principal features referred to in your secretary's report.

We have been fortunate during the year 1919 in acquiring through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, directly or indirectly, three new industries for Kingston, employing chiefly male labor. These concerns are the Katterman-Mitchell Co., The Apollo Magneto Co., and the Bourne-Toomey Co. The Apollo Magneto Co., is located in the plant formerly owned by the Campbell Motor Car Co., and the Bourne-Toomey Co., has established itself at Devo street, in the Wood Working Plant built by Mr. McCready some years ago for the Kingston Wood Working Company. The Katterman-Mitchell Co., however, has erected its own plant and I think it will be generally admitted that their handsome and modern new building is one of the largest as well as the finest factory in our city. We are very glad to give every welcome to these three important industries and to assure them of the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce.

The coming of these three industries to Kingston will materially assist in the adjustment of our male labor situation. It will however still remain the policy of the Chamber of Commerce to persist in its endeavors to bring to Kingston more industries whose requirements will be for male help.

The Manhattan Shirt Co. is just completing on Hoffman street its new and in every respect, modern shirt factory building. Also the Fuller Shirt Co. has recently made a large addition to its plant and we are glad to congratulate both of these concerns upon these excellent plants.

The Hanco Food Products Corp. and the Universal Road Machinery Co. both Kingston concerns, have done much to develop the volume of their business and in turn to increase their requirements for employing men and it is a pleasure, which I am sure you all share, to make recognition of the growth of these two concerns and to acknowledge the benefit of this growth to our industrial situation.

The increase in our industrial population has brought with it the necessity of building additional houses to provide suitable homes for these workers. Your Chamber of Commerce is therefore organizing the Kingston Housing Corporation for the purpose of assisting in the financing of these necessary new houses and it is hoped that during the year 1920 this worthy project will be well under way.

For the convenience and comfort of our outlying population, having received to come to Kingston for work, shopping or pleasure, by bus lines, the Chamber of Commerce has established three bus terminals at different ends of the city and it is hoped that the advantages of these terminals will more than make up for the expense of maintaining them.

The plan submitted by our city administration for the construction of our new downtown Broadway corridor has been the subject of much discussion and interest of the Chamber of Commerce, and we are hopeful that this worthy project will be well under way.

The Board of Trade Board of whom Robin Steele has acted as chairman must be credited with some very excellent work, and in particular for their successful "Dress Up Week." The Retail Trade Board has a record of frequent meetings, well attended and the merchants are to be congratulated for their earnest cooperation.

C. R. Stull, chairman, with his committee and Harry Dodge, director have successfully organized the Kingston Community Chorus. The large attendance at some of these chorus meetings amply attest to the very commendable work of these gentlemen. The Kingston Community Chorus deserves our full support and I trust that it will continue to grow in numbers and appreciation in our community.

Your secretary, Sydney D. M. Hudson assisted by L. S. Coe, manager of Stamford, N. Y., conceived the idea of the Catskill and Shawangunk Mountains Association and through their combined efforts and the cooperation of your board of directors this association has been formed. This association has a represented membership among the principal hotel men of this section and I feel that the organization of this important association will prove one of the notable activities of the Chamber of Commerce for the past year.

The several successful dinners and meetings with the prominent visiting speakers brought here for these occasions were all well attended and were no doubt a source of much education and pleasure to our members.

Our Chamber of Commerce now has a membership of over 500 and which indicates that this organization has the growing confidence and support of our community. This membership is made up of a large extent of the representative, banking, industrial, wholesale, retail and professional interests of Kingston. An organization of this kind with the lively interest and support of its members can easily accomplish for the good of Kingston any program of work they determine upon.

The three directors, Messrs. Leighton, Kearney, and Gorman whose terms have expired have all given freely of their time when called upon and their identity with your board of directors has done much to advance the interests of the Chamber of Commerce and our sincere thanks and appreciation are due them.

I have had the pleasure of serving as your president for two terms and I wish to express my appreciation of the honor you have conferred upon me and at the same time to bespeak for my successor a very successful administration. In closing my most earnest thanks are due to Mr. Hudson, our able, energetic and loyal secretary, to our board of directors, committee members and young ladies in this office. In retiring from office, I wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year.

Report of Secretary Hudson, part one:

No one in Kingston can ask "What Has the Chamber of Commerce Done in 1919?"

Nor can there be any demand for the completion of some one outstanding thing, when a considerable number of such things have been completed and are matters of public knowledge.

There are, indeed, many improvements which need to be made in the working efficiency of the Chamber of Commerce, which is also true of every other public organization and of every private business.

The Chamber of Commerce, however, is able to present in its account of this year's work a known record of public service and important accomplishment.

Prior to the more detailed account of the chamber's activities it is interesting to sketch briefly some of the outstanding things accomplished.

Twenty matters are especially appropriate for this purpose:

1. New Silk Mill.

The Katterman & Mitchell Company have erected a two story silk mill at Cornell street and Ten Broeck avenue and have begun operations in this plant.

The Chamber of Commerce interested them in Kingston, brought them here and has continued to be of service to them.

This new industry will employ 150 people of whom at least seventy-five per cent will be men.

2. Apollo Magneto Corporation.

The Chamber of Commerce offered its cooperation in the construction of the Campbell Motor Car Company as the site of the Campbell plant. The chamber's officers and representatives cooperated with J. K. Lawrence of the Apollo Magneto Corporation which now is established in this plant, secured the advantages of Kingston to him, secured him company a hearty welcome and gave him full information in regard to the city.

The Magneto Company, which operates a factory in Brooklyn, has been accepted to utilize the Campbell plant in connection with its work and it is anticipated that it will give employment to a large

BRYAN SAID TO BACK LODGE

Expected to Plead for Treaty Ratification With Only Preamble Modified at Jackson Day Dinner—No Action by Senate Until Then.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The treaty situation remained deadlocked today while the senate continued to "mark time" pending the outcome of the Jackson day dinner of Democratic leaders tomorrow night.

Interest was divided between the "important message" President Wilson would send to the dinner and the address William Jennings Bryan would deliver there.

Republican and Democratic senators appeared to take it for granted the president would not only deal with the treaty in his message, but would urge the Democratic party to unite in making it a campaign issue unless the senate agreed to ratify it without reservations which he considered would "nullify it."

Bryan was expected to assume a different attitude. He was reported to favor immediate ratification with the Lodge reservations if the so-called "preamble" providing for written assent to the reservations by three of the four powers the United States was associated with in the world was modified.

force, at least two-thirds of which will be men.

3. Motor Truck Plant.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended the former Kingston wood-working plant on Devo street to the officers of the Bourne-Toomey Company of New York city as a desirable plant for the assembling of motor trucks, and also set forth the advantages of Kingston as a location of this of this work, especially for export business.

The Bourne-Toomey Company have secured a long term lease on this property, taken possession and are preparing for production.

They will employ seventy-five men at first and it is probable that will increase the space now available. The chamber stands ready to assist these new industries, as well as the older industries of the city, by every possible service.

In no case was any bonus or financial inducement of any kind involved in the location of these new plants.

4. Dress Up Week.

A retail trade board, Robin Steele, chairman, has been formed for the better performance of the retail trade promotion work of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dress Up Week, April 4-12, was, perhaps, the most notable of a number of important trade events carried out by the retail trade board.

It was a conspicuous and sale-producing success from the unveiling of seventy especially prepared store windows on Friday evening, April 4, to the closing hours of Saturday evening, April 12th.

It greatly increased the prestige of Kingston as a retail trade center and made possible the co-operation of 141 Kingston retailers in Fall Display Week.

5. Auto Bus Terminals.

One of Kingston's chief needs has been the provision of terminal waiting rooms for the convenience of patrons of the automobile buses which connect Kingston with neighboring towns and villages.

The Chamber of Commerce, on the initiative of its retail trade board, has opened and will maintain three terminal waiting rooms.

The uptown terminal is in the Kingston Hotel, the Central Terminal is at 555 Broadway and the Downtown Terminal is in the Rondont National Bank Arcade.

These terminals were first opened on December 15 and have already shown their value. With improved public convenience in their comfort and convenience, they will become of constantly increasing importance and should come to rank in public necessity close to the railway terminals.

6. Shipping Days.

A system of "Shipping Days" was established by the United States Railroad Administration to expedite the shipment of freight by largely eliminating transfer points.

This system provided only two shipping days each week on each railroad.

When applied to local freight it produced delay in shipment and had resulted in considerable present loss and very large threatened loss of business to Kingston's wholesalers.

As a result of a Shippers' Conference conducted by the Chamber of Commerce and of representations made by the chamber to the U. S. Railroad Administration, three shipping days instead of two were granted for local freight out of Kingston.

7. Catskill-Shawangunk Mountains Association.

Kingston is a gateway to the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountains region. It has an important business and trade relations with every part of this section.

The development and prosperity of this section is of fundamental importance to Kingston.

The Catskill-Shawangunk Mountains Association, which has been organized for the purpose of promoting the development and prosperity of this section, has been accepted to utilize the Campbell plant in connection with its work and it is anticipated that it will give employment to a large

MARTENS HAS DISAPPEARED

Soviet "Ambassador" Missing in Washington—Weinstein's Arrest Caused By Published Appeal For Overthrow of U. S. Government.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 7.—There was great interest displayed today by agents of the department of justice in the whereabouts of L. C. K. Martens, the self-styled ambassador of Soviet Russia.

Martens was not at the hotel where he had been stopping while in Washington, S. Kuorteva, secretary to Martens, refused to say where his chief was.

Officials of the department of justice admitted they were anxious to see Martens but they would not state whether his arrest was planned.

The chief cause for the closing down of the Russian communist paper Novy Mir, and the arrest of its editor, Gregory Weinstein, was the publication of a letter in a recent issue to communist "comrades" of Detroit recommending immediate action in the overthrow of the government.

A translation of this letter convinced the department of justice of the necessity of the arrest of Weinstein and his deportation to Russia. It was learned today. Novy Mir, it is understood, has a very large subscription list in Detroit, where nearly 500 communists were picked up during the recent raids. The letter is vitriolic in its denunciation of the American government and of the bourgeoisie, "which has survived only through the help of its army, police, spies and black hand legions." The letter concludes with loud praise for the "sacred slogans" of the communists, created by Rosa Luxemburg and Karl Liebknecht, who it adds, "were atrociously murdered by the executioners Noske and Scheidemann."

10 MORE CASES MEASLES HERE

The measles epidemic is gradually growing and Tuesday afternoon ten new cases were reported to the board of health, bringing the total number of cases in the city up to 55. The epidemic is still confined to the upper section of the city.

TO PROBE TRADE COMMISSION MASS MEETING OF NURSES HERE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Appointment of a sub-committee of the senate interstate commerce committee to investigate the federal trade commission was authorized at a special meeting of the committee today.

The investigation will go into alleged activity of extremists in the commission's office. A resolution introduced by Senator Robertson, Republican of Indiana, and passed by the senate, authorized the investigation.

Miss Gilman, of the New York State Nurses' Association, will address a mass meeting of the graduate nurses of Kingston and vicinity on Thursday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock in the Kingston City Hospital. There are several bills of interest to nurses before the legislature at Albany at the present time, and Miss Gilman will explain how the bills, if adopted, will affect the nurses. Every graduate nurse should make a special effort Thursday to attend the meeting at the hospital.

5. Draft Dodger BERGEDOLL FOUND

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Philadelphia, Jan. 7.—One of the wealthy Bergedolls, who have been sought on charges of evading the army draft for nearly two years, was arrested here early today, when detectives raided their home.

Detectors surrounded the Bergedoll residence early in the morning and broke in from the front and rear simultaneously.

Mrs. Bergedoll is alleged to have threatened the detectives with a revolver but the weapon was wrested from her hands. In the meantime, the house was being searched and a man, wrapped in a blanket was found hiding in a closet.

The policeman recognized him as Edwin Bergedoll, but the prisoner claimed that he was the other Bergedoll, Cleveland. They look much alike.

The Bergedolls are very wealthy. The draft dodging case gained national-wide notoriety when the two brothers disappeared. Search failed to reveal them. They were reported to have been in Mexico but all traces of them were lost. Upon previous occasions the Bergedolls had been arrested, but without result.

The raid was made following persistent reports that Edwin Bergedoll and Cleveland Bergedoll, sons of the wealthy widow, were now in the city after having eluded the draft slip repeatedly.

Doan McMillan, of the department of justice, heading a party of seven agents, was met at the front door of the Bergedoll home by Mrs. Bergedoll, who threatened him with a pistol. McMillan was impatient with her, declaring:

"This woman is brazenly defying the law, and we will get it as we have to turn the house. If she is so foolish as to shoot one of our men she will have to take the consequences."

The officers, despite the threats, entered the house and arrested her son.

FLATBUSH ICE WORKERS STRIKE

About 200 Men Stop Work Demanding $5 and $6 Day—Knickerbocker Ice Company Starts Esopus House Thursday—Houses About One-Third Full.

After the ice workers at Turkey Point had struck on Monday for a $5 and $6 day, which had been refused by the Knickerbocker Ice Company, the strikers returning to work Tuesday, about 200 ice workers at the Flatbush house of the company struck Tuesday afternoon demanding a $6 day which has been refused.

The Knickerbocker Company is paying from $1.25 to $5.25 per day, according to the character of the work, which rate of pay was accepted by the Turkey Point workers.

Thursday morning the Knickerbocker Company will start the work of filling the big Esopus ice house. In order to accommodate the workers from this vicinity the company will run auto stages from the Sleighs-burgh ferry landing to Esopus in the morning, and will bring the workers home again at the close of the day's work.

The big ice houses in this vicinity are now about one-third full, and with favorable weather conditions will be filled within the next two weeks.

GOVERNOR SMITH ASKS FOR VOTE OF PEOPLE ON EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT

And Legislature To Rescind Its Ratification—Doubts It Was Legally Adopted By States—Legislature In Session.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The New York state legislature convened at noon today and was asked by Governor Alfred E. Smith to rescind its action ratifying the national constitutional prohibition amendment and put the question of whether the state should go "dry" or "wet" directly up to the people at the coming general election.

The governor in his message to the lawmakers declared that grave doubt exists as to whether the eighteenth amendment was legally adopted by the states and charges that the Republican party last had to be used last year to whip the majority Republicans into a line for ratification though many were personally opposed to ratifying the amendment.

The governor also called on the legislature to adopt a concurrent resolution urging New York's representatives in the United States senate to seek from congress immediate ratification of the peace treaty.

The governor's message in full will be found on page seven.

FARMER-LABOR COMBINE WORRIES POLITICIANS

Statement Says Object Is Direct Dealing Between Producer and Consumer—Officials Include Farmers' Leaders and Labor Union Heads, Including Stone and Shepard.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The all American farmer-labor co-operative commission was introduced to Washington today and gave cold shudders to some of the leading politicians.

There had been talk of a powerful combine between the farmers and the labor leaders, but the announcement today by C. H. Gustafson caused consternation to those who are already attempting to predict the way the votes will fall in 1920.

According to the announcement made by Gustafson, the committee will conduct a vigorous campaign for direct dealing between farm producers and city consumers and as soon as feasible between city producers and farm consumers.

This flat announcement, however, did not satisfy when political leaders looked at the list of officials of the new organization which includes C. H. Gustafson, president of the Nebraska Farmers' Union, President Warren S. Stone, chief of the Railroad Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, general treasurer, and O. H. McGill, general secretary.

Other officials include L. E. Sheppard, chief of the Railway Conductors; Harold F. Baker, president of the Farmers' National Council; J. W. Clyne, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths; E. O. Ames, president of the Pacific Co-operative League; J. M. Anderson, president of the Equity Co-operative Exchange; Duane McDonald, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor; Allan Barker, head of the Railroad Brotherhood of Maintenance of Ways and Railway Shop Laborers; and Bert M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees Department of the American Federation of Labor.

The fact that Warren S. Stone holds a high office in the new combine gave immediate rise to a report that a new commission will carry on a campaign to make the Plumb plan and other proposals of labor an issue in the presidential elections.

The formal statement of purposes of the commission was as follows: "All-American farmer-labor co-operative commission is a commission to coordinate and encourage co-operative effort between and among organized producers and consumers, and to unify action in eliminating speculation and profiteering in the necessities of life to develop intelligence, mutual understanding and good will."

The statement was sufficient for the party leaders who interpreted it as the first step in a great drive to farmers and laborers to make themselves felt in politics.

TO O. K. WILSON.

Democratic National Committee Meets Tomorrow.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Full and complete approval of President Wilson's administration, from the time he entered the White House until the present, including his trip to Europe, and his efforts at the Paris peace conference, will be the subject of a resolution tomorrow when the Democratic national committee meets here to make preparations for its coming campaign.

This act, however, was in line with the policy of the Democratic party in the past, and it is expected that it will be passed without opposition.

CITY BUDGET IS ADOPTED; TAX RATE $33

This includes State and County Tax—Mrs. Banlowa Claims $200 Damages From City—City Sealer Moyle Given $200 Increase—Other Matters.

The city budget of $524,654.65, approved by Mayor Canfield, was adopted by the common council Tuesday evening at the first regular meeting of the year, and a resolution creating the tax levy was unanimously adopted. The tax rate will be $33 per $1,000 valuation, which includes the state and county tax.

President Dittus presided, with Aldermen Warren, Rogers, Schick, Lemister, Laverick, Parish, Kallmann, Macholdt, Higgins, Myers, Martin and Purvis present. The only absentee was Alderman Kirchhafer.

After adopting the city budget unanimously, the council took up a number of other matters.

$200 For Fall.

The claim of Mrs. Mary Banlowa of No. 68 Newkirk avenue for $200 for injuries received by a fall on an icy sidewalk at the corner of Hasbrouck and Newkirk avenues, near the Hasch property, on December 19 of last year, at noon of that day, was read and referred to the auditing committee and the corporation counsel. Robert U. Groves is attorney for Mrs. Banlowa.

Pardee to Have Help.

City Treasurer Pardee sent in a communication calling attention to the need of extra help in his office during the tax collection period, and Alderman Purvis offered a resolution that the city treasurer be empowered to engage extra clerk hire at a sum not to exceed $150, which was adopted.

City Sealer Given Raise.

Mayor Canfield sent in a communication advocating an increase in salary to City Sealer of Weights and Measures William Moyle. The mayor stated the position was now paying $300 a year, and called for the quarter time of the sealer. He favored that the sealer of weights and measures give half of his time to the job, and be compensated accordingly.

Alderman Schick asked that the privilege of the floor be extended to former Alderman-at-large Sam Watts, who briefly outlined the work accomplished by the city sealer, and said that within the past two years Mr. Moyle had made the position a real job.

Alderman Schick's resolution increasing the salary to $600 a year was unanimously adopted.

Trolley Road Slack.

Alderman Schick offered a resolution that as Hasbrouck avenue had been placed in excellent shape and paved, that the Kingston Consolidated railroad should pave between the tracks on that avenue between Newkirk avenue and Delaware avenue, and that the board of public works notify the trolley road to do so.

Alderman Macholdt, who is a conductor on that division, said that evidently Alderman Schick had not observed that brick was laid between the tracks on part of the stretch mentioned by the Third ward alderman, and but a small stretch was laid with cobble stones.

"If that is so," said Alderman Schick, "then it won't cost the trolley road much to pave 'a small strip.' The alderman from the Third said that the trolley road had been very slack in the past in doing its share of the placing of improved streets in condition."

Warren Wants Skating Ponds.

Alderman Warren of the First ward offered his first resolution as a member of the council requesting the board of public works to make two safe skating ponds near schools and trolley lines. The resolution was referred to that board.

Other Matters.

Alderman Myers offered a resolution that an arc light be placed on Henry street at the head of Oak street, and that an arc light be placed on Fair street. Referred to board of public works.

Alderman Martin offered a resolution that the chief of police notify property owners on the northwest corner of Green and Main streets to relay sidewalks on Main street from the corner to the Tanager brook. Referred to police board.

Alderman Martin also offered a resolution that an arc light be placed on Lucas avenue at the entrance to Forsyth Park.

Alderman Schick offered a resolution that as the city engineer's office on the first floor had been turned over to the health board that the committee on supplies be given power to go ahead and have necessary repairs made at a cost not to exceed $400. Adopted.

The council then adjourned.

Rubber Preservation.

A preparation that may be used for preserving rubber may be made by setting a saturated solution of potassium in saturated alcohol. The point of saturation is known by a drop of ammoniacal turpentine uniting in the alcohol. A little more alcohol is added to dissolve this drop and the solution is saturated. The rubber articles should be immersed in the solution and washed with the solution.

I love my pipe and good old Velvet—

My comforters in adversity, my wise counselors when problems vex. Companions of my loneliness and sharers of my happy hours. Their friendliness has made me feel more kindly toward my fellow men. They have made this old world a better place to live in.

I love my pipe and good old Velvet; no one shall take them from me.

First Battle of the Marne Cost Nearly 750,000 Men

The bloodiest battle of the world war was the first battle of the Marne. Official figures just issued in Paris show the losses were:

Dead	329,000
Wounded	469,000
Total	798,000

This means that this one battle cost nearly three-quarters of a million men. The figures include, of course, the losses on both sides.

Thought Sinker Was Found

Little John, who had often been told to be sure of a statement before he made it, was visiting his grandparents on the farm. One day he rushed into the house exclaiming: "I saw a snake eat their grandpa." "What kind of snake was it?" asked grandpa.

"I am not right sure," said little John. "But I think it was a round one."

Learn About

Arthur (the parrot)—"I am not wedded to my art." Parson—"Well, you certainly don't marry for money."—London Mail.

Husband Took Covers, So His Wife Sues

New York.—The argument arose, the bill stated: "Over their respective equities in the bedclothes of their conjugal couch, in the course of which he succeeded in wresting from your partner and retaining some 50 per cent of said coverings, and struck her in so doing."

The fact that it was bitter cold on that November night in 1915 when the above-named incident transpired in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Herman is not regarded by Mrs. Herman as an extenuating circumstance. Hence she has entered suit for divorce.

San Antonio Baby.

San Antonio, Tex.—A rat bite may prove fatal to one of the twin babies of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Nelson of this place. Mrs. Nelson was awakened by the cry of her baby and, hurrying to the crib, which stood near her bed, she discovered a large rat had managed to get into the crib where the infants were sleeping. She frightened the animal away, but not before it had bitten one of the babies on the chest and partially chewed off one of its fingers. The bite may prove fatal.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 7, 1920

It is announced that the National Merchant Tailors' Association in convention will consider the advisability of abandoning the fashion of turning up men's trousers with "cuffs." Well may they do so, for it is estimated that if $3,000,000 in 1920 should wear two pairs of trousers each minus the "cuffs" more than a million yards of cutting would be saved. Such a conservation of material is not only desirable in itself but might make the thicker "pants" goods of former times possible, thus saving the average man much winter shivering and disease-inviting exposure caused by the thin trouserings of the present period.

THEY ALL TOOK A CHANCE.

Discussing President Wilson's course at the peace conference, the American Senate's attitude toward the treaty, and the "mischief wrought" by the lack of harmony or agreement between two co-ordinate branches of our government, the London Saturday Review makes this astonishing statement: "The misfortune was that neither Mr. Clemenceau nor Mr. Lloyd-George knew anything about the American Constitution or the state of parties in the United States."

If this were true, it would amount to a charge that Clemenceau and Lloyd-George were not qualified for the positions they occupied. Average Frenchmen or Englishmen can afford to be ignorant of American institutions and take a pride in their lack of knowledge of American affairs generally, as many Englishmen ostentatiously do, but it is the business of leading statesmen to be informed and they are informed. Undoubtedly both Clemenceau and Lloyd-George knew of the "consent of the Senate" provision of the Constitution, and they could not have failed to take note of the widely heralded election of an opposition Congress in November, 1918, although they may have attributed this in part to the usual mid-term reaction. Lloyd-George must have reflected seriously upon this, he being well aware of the meaning of such an adverse election in his own country.

Undoubtedly the real truth is that not Wilson alone but Lloyd-George and Clemenceau also "took a chance," counting on the war enthusiasm to last long enough to carry the treaty through. It is quite possible, however, that not one of the three foresaw how suddenly the United States would drop from the war heights of enthusiasm and ardor.

SEEKING LOST ATLANTIS.

In these days of decreased production the rediscovery of a lost continent of fertile fertile soil might be of great practical value, but if it should be found still under water, as the fabled Atlantis is supposed to be, the world's supply of wheat could hardly be increased to any appreciable extent. So if Prof. William Alanson Bryan of Hawaii should succeed in his quest, the feat would invite merely a scientific and romantic interest. Prof. Bryan has either not read his Plato carefully or has been influenced by local pride and considerations of convenience. For otherwise he would hardly propose to find the lost Atlantis in the Pacific, somewhere along a 4,000 mile under-sea "bridge" between Hawaii and South America. Instead of in the Atlantic where ancient tradition placed the vanished land.

Plato, who lived four centuries before the Christian era, said the famous legendary island of Atlantis had been known to his contemporaries and had been known since thousands of years before his day, that it was larger than Libya and Asia Minor combined, that it had nearly been engulfed in the sea, and that it was situated somewhere far out beyond the Pillars of Hercules, the entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar, then definitely placing it in a rather remote part of the Atlantic ocean. Plato also referred to the wonders of early Greek mythology to find or identify Atlantis, all of them unaccounted for.

It is quite possible that as noted in the Atlantic known as very ancient, there was an offshoot of the Atlantic and that it was situated somewhere far out beyond the Pillars of Hercules, then definitely placing it in a rather remote part of the Atlantic ocean. Plato also referred to the wonders of early Greek mythology to find or identify Atlantis, all of them unaccounted for.

It is quite possible that as noted in the Atlantic known as very ancient, there was an offshoot of the Atlantic and that it was situated somewhere far out beyond the Pillars of Hercules, then definitely placing it in a rather remote part of the Atlantic ocean. Plato also referred to the wonders of early Greek mythology to find or identify Atlantis, all of them unaccounted for.

and others have risen above the surface of the sea, as a result of volcanic action. But the great size and remoteness of the legendary Atlantis point pretty directly toward either the North or South American continent. Such identification is suggested by the ancient account on its very face. It is not improbable that during centuries of prehistoric times, storm driven for weeks far out beyond the "Pillars of Hercules," sighted some part of the American continent and on their return reported its existence, calling it Atlantis. It is not improbable that later mariners of the earliest historic period tried to reach this "Atlantis" and, being unsuccessful, accounted to their failure by more than intimating that the distant and sought-for land had disappeared beneath the waves. However that may be, it is obvious that if Prof. Alanson Bryan should discover a sunken or submerged land in the Pacific between Hawaii and South America, it would not be the lost Atlantis but another island of similar history.

RUSSIAN REDS OFFER PEACE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
 London, Jan. 7.—Colonel Talant, representative of the British government in the Balkan States, is on his way to London carrying a new peace offer from the Bolsheviks, according to a news agency dispatch from Stockholm today. It said Lenin, the Bolshevik premier, promised to abolish terrorism and all activity of the revolutionary tribunals as two of the conditions.

AT THE THEATRES.

Evelyn Greeley at Auditorium—Lewis at Keweenaw.

In booking "Me and Captain Kidd" the new World Film starring Evelyn Greeley, the management of the Auditorium has secured one of the cleverest pictures of the screen—for tonight only. Tomorrow, "Me and Captain Kidd" tells of a young lawyer who is retained to secure the divorce of the adopted daughter of his wealthy patron and friend. When he hears the details of the case he suddenly recognizes the girl as the woman he married some years before. In "The Last of His People," Mitchell Lewis, at Keweenaw, plays the part of an Indian and the long recognized barrier between the red race and the white composes the central ideas. For it is a romance between the red man and a white girl that gives the story its sustaining point, although a wealth of counterplotting is offered to carry out the adventurous line of action. A Pathe Review, Literary Digest and Gaumont News Weekly are added features. Tomorrow, Eugene O'Brien in "The Perfect Lover," "Girl of Paradise" which opens an engagement of three days. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Opera House, tells a story of San Francisco and Hawaii. Blended in with the action of the screen drama a company of native Hawaiians will sing the songs of their home land, dance that far famed Hula Hula and play the soft stringed instruments of the South Seas.

STELLE FOILS WINNER.

Columbia Fencer Makes Sweep in Novice Contests at N. Y. A. C.

E. T. Stelle of the Columbia varsity fencing team won the Hammond Novice Foils prize at the New York Athletic Club Monday night in spirited duels against Joseph M. Goulden of the N. Y. A. C., Louis F. Bishop of Yale and Arthur R. Townsend of the N. Y. A. C. Owing to the small field the prize was decided on the round robin basis. Goulden and Bishop were tied for second, while Townsend was left behind in fourth place.

Townsend, however, was able to push the coming champion harder than either Bishop or Goulden did. The work of the Blue and White man was too much for his competitors, however, and all succumbed sooner or later. The dexterity with which this young fencer handled the foils Monday night entitles him to serious consideration in the collegiate championships which will be held early in March.

The individual scores follow: Stelle defeated Goulden, 5-3; Stelle defeated Bishop, 5-3; Stelle defeated Townsend, 5-4; Goulden defeated Townsend, 5-2; Bishop defeated Townsend, 5-2.—N. Y. Sun.

Stelle is a son of Dr. L. K. Stelle of this city and was graduated from Kingston High School with the class of 1917. While attending the high school Stelle was prominent in local debating and speaking contests, carrying off several prizes.

DUCHESS MADE CARPENTIER BLUSH

By Telegram to The Freeman.
 Paris, Jan. 7.—An intoxicated English Duchess was put out of Ciro's, the most fashionable cabaret restaurant in Paris, last night for insisting upon dancing with Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight champion of Europe. Carpentier, who was with his manager and some friends, was greatly embarrassed by the incident and blushed as waiters were leading the woman away. He and his friends departed immediately afterward.

WITNESSES NEEDED

To Clear Up Cases on Supreme Court Calendar.

The appellate division, third department, supreme court, convened at Albany on Tuesday for the January term with Justice Michael H. Kiley, of Madison county on the bench for the first time. The cases heard were appeals from orders and today appeals in compensation cases were argued. Among those argued Tuesday was the following:

Hubert Kelly, respondent, against Home Mutual Fire Insurance company, appellant. Appeal from an order of Justice Nichols at the Ulster special term denying the application of the defendant for the issuance of a commission to take the testimony of a resident of New Jersey, John R. DeVany for respondent, William Rooney for appellant.

There are nine cases on the calendar of the Supreme court in Ulster county which have been there for a long time, coming up at each term and going over for various reasons from time to time. Mainly because the testimony of an important witness who is out of the county and by whom plaintiff alleges incendiarism can be proven is necessary.

MRS. LYONS GIVES.

Former Inmate Sends $500 to Prisoners at Sing Sing.

Mrs. Sophie Lyons, now a wealthy resident of Detroit, sent $500 to Sing Sing prison Tuesday to be distributed to the prisoners through the Mutual Welfare League. Forty-seven years ago Mrs. Lyons escaped from Sing Sing with her husband, the burglar, Ned Lyons. They both were caught several months later and returned to serve the balance of their sentences. After that Mrs. Lyons "went straight." The change of years was well demonstrated in the address on the letter, which was "New York State Prison, Sing Sing, N. Y." She did not know the new name of the town.

Mrs. Lyons said she sent the gift because she remembered she had always been treated so kindly by the matrons.

ANK WILSON'S AID.

Venezian Insists On Greek Mandate For Constantinople.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
 Paris, Jan. 7.—Premier Venezian of Greece is planning to appeal to President Wilson to support his demands for a Greek mandate for Constantinople. It was learned today.

M. Venezian is determined to stand out and, while pressing the Allies for a Constantinople mandate to insist that the Turk has no place in Europe.

BEST FEED FOR LAYING

Object Should Be to Repair Worn Furnish Heat to Body and Supply Egg Materials.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The nutriment in the feed of hens serves a twofold purpose: It repairs waste and furnishes heat to the body and to supply the egg materials. As only the surplus what is needed for the body is available for egg production, the feeds should be fed in sufficient quantities to induce this production.

In supplying feed to fowls there are three kinds of constituents:

It Pays to Feed Hens Regularly.

should be present in certain well-fixed proportions if the results are to be obtained economically. These constituents are mineral, nitrogenous, and carbonaceous, all of which are essential. Wheat, oats and barley are in the right proportions to give the greatest egg yield. In addition animal feed and green food should be supplied.

In feeding poultry a vitamin may be learned from the spring the production of the farm is an easy matter which are at liberty to receive abundance of green and water on their range, which will also a perfect ration to hens. In addition to the plenty of exercise and power far as lies within his power feeder should aim to make conditions springlike.

PORRIDGE FEED FOR

Scraps and Waste Are Good By Running Through Sary Meat Cutter.

Table scraps and kitchen refuse best prepared for feeding them through an ordinary meat grinder. After the material has been ground rather moist mass, and mix with it cornmeal, bran, ground grain until the mixture becomes a crumbly condition method is to feed the material in the afternoon or at night, or both may be desired, in a trough. All should be fresh. Hens will eat up clean, and the material is left after about three quarters of an hour can be removed. If allowed to spoil and would be very bad for hens.

POULTRY

You get more for your money by picking it dry than wet.

It is almost impossible to keep hens which are constantly exercising.

Nature teaches us that the best place for the hen is the best place for the farmer.

The fall renovation business should include survey of the feed bins.

Idle hens soon grow fat and in the plans for winter provide some means to work.

A barnyard could become a comfortable living condition for the hen and her broods.

Poultry houses should have a good grade of roof and a tight roof and a warm air to the roof, so in the winter.

O'CONNOR NEW HEAD OF C. OF C.

October with headquarters in the rooms of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

The preliminary organization work was done by L. S. Coe of Stamford, now president of the association and by the secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

This new and strong association, which is a kind of Chamber of Commerce for this region is capable of giving invaluable service to the region and thereby to Kingston.

It has also strengthened still further the pleasant relations between Kingston and its neighbors.

Its officers and directors are:

L. S. Coe, President and Manager, Stamford, N. Y.

A. K. Shuler, Treasurer, Lake Mohawk, N. Y.

C. B. O'Connor, Assistant Treasurer, Kingston, N. Y.

S. D. M. Hudson, Secretary, Kingston, N. Y.

J. M. Herbert, Kingston, N. Y.

H. Westlake Coons, Ellenville, N. Y.

E. B. Miller, Woodland, N. Y.

L. P. Schult, Haines Falls, N. Y.

J. W. Witbeck, East Windham, N. Y.

H. M. Finger, Saugerties, N. Y.

J. K. Van Wagenen, Catskill, N. Y.

E. H. Terwilliger, Ellenville, N. Y.

8. Community Chorus.

The Chamber of Commerce, through its community chorus committee, C. B. Shull, chairman, secured the organization of the Kingston Community Chorus.

Community sings are now held Tuesday evening of each week at the high school in the winter and in the parks during the summer. Harry P. Dodge is the efficient director of the chorus. The record attendance is over 1,000 and several hundred people take part in the sings weekly.

9. Broadway Crossing.

Although the elimination of the Broadway crossing can not yet be listed as something which has been done, 1919 has seen the development of a definite and tangible plan for this elimination.

The progress made toward the acceptance of this plan has been so great that it can safely be said that there is every prospect that the public service commission will issue an order for this elimination early in 1920 and that work will be begun during 1920.

Co-operation between the Chamber of Commerce and the city administration in forwarding this elimination has been a thorough-going and effective that it would be impossible to distinguish the part played by each respectively.

The original hearing before the public service commission on January 22 was secured on the initiative of Mayor Canfield.

The depressed Broadway plan, which after full discussion and the preparation of models by the city, and the holdings of public hearings has been accepted by the Chamber of Commerce and the city as the best plan for the elimination, is in its present and satisfactory form chiefly the work of Mayor Canfield and of President Herbert of the Chamber of Commerce. Many features of value have been contributed by the members of the chamber's special committee on the elimination of the Broadway crossing and by other members of the chamber and other citizens.

This special committee, Joseph M. Fowler, chairman, has attended all hearings before the public service commission as well as special conferences.

Many conferences have been held here in the working out and perfection of this plan which have been participated in by the mayor and city officials, by the chamber's special committee and its directors.

The depressed Broadway plan provides for a total street width of 111 feet, thus affording sufficient room for traffic on both the lower and the depressed levels and for the carrying of a wide sidewalk.

It will bring the Colonial tracks as well as the Kingston City through the depression, thus straightening the Colonial line and by a better distribution of traffic, contributing largely toward the solution of traffic congestion on our thoroughfare.

It is by far the best plan which is both physically and financially feasible. It has been taken up and perfected at a time when the public service commission on account of the accumulation of funds raised during the war is able to appreciate the state's share toward an elimination of the magnitude required in Kingston.

There is every reason to believe that through the prompt action of the city and the Chamber of Commerce, Kingston is about to solve what is, perhaps, its most difficult and important municipal problem.

10. Building Publicity Campaign.

In the spring of 1919 there was a widely prevalent opinion that building costs were excessive and would shortly be largely reduced. This opinion was a bar to the construction of new houses which were badly needed.

A builders' conference, Arthur C. Connelly, chairman, organized by the Chamber of Commerce, raised a special public fund and conducted a publicity campaign giving the facts with respect to the building situation.

These facts showed that building costs were not high as compared with other costs and that no reduction could be expected for a long time to come. This last contention has been convincingly verified by further increases in building costs.

This campaign produced a great deal of interest in building and undoubtedly contributed materially to increased building, painting and repairing done in Kingston during 1919.

11. House for Industrial Workers.

The Chamber of Commerce is now conducting the organization of the Kingston Industrial Workers' Home for the purpose of securing homes for industrial workers.

The board of directors of the Kingston Industrial Workers' Home has been organized and a plan for the construction of a house is being worked out.

This company is to be incorporated.

with an authorized capital of $500,000, $25,000 of stock will be sold and paid in at first and other blocks of stock will be offered from time to time as may be necessary.

Two special committees, one on housing investigation, Arthur C. Connelly, chairman, and one on housing finance, C. S. Treadwell, chairman, have made an investigation of the city's housing needs and of ways and means of meeting them.

There is a present need for at least 100 new houses in addition to possible remodeling. This need will increase during 1920.

The chamber plans to, by publicity and appeals to stimulate construction of houses by individuals in addition to the work of the Kingston Homes Company. The publicity given to the need for more houses has already resulted in plans for a number of privately built houses.

With the coming of the new industries already located, with the expansion by older industries and with excellent prospect for the bringing of more industries here in 1920, no problem is of more importance to Kingston than this one of housing.

12. Kingston Transportation Guide.

In July the Chamber of Commerce printed and distributed 10,000 copies of a Kingston Transportation Guide, prepared by a committee of which M. Clyde Crosby was chairman.

For the first time in the history of the city the schedules of all transportation lines in and out of Kingston, by rail, water and by automobile and horse drawn busses were brought together in compact and convenient form.

A winter edition of this guide will be issued shortly.

13. Travelers Club.

A unique organization of traveling men has been formed in Kingston by some sixty men who now regard Kingston as sort of second home.

The Chamber of Commerce has welcomed the Travelers Club of which Arthur Humphrey is president, to Kingston.

W. C. Riveburn, President L. S. Coe of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association and the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce have been among the speakers at its meetings. The chamber entertained the members of the Travelers Club as guest at its November dinner.

Plans are under way for systematic co-operation of the chamber during the 1920 with the commercial travelers residing in Kingston through Kingston Council of the Commercial Travelers of America, and with the Travelers Club.

14. Ulster County Society.

Among the greatest assets of Kingston and Ulster county is the Ulster County Society, composed of about 500 former residents of this county, now living in New York and the metropolitan district.

Both the Ulster County Society and the Chamber of Commerce have recognized the value of developing this loyalty to the old home in the systematic co-operation of the Ulster County Society, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the various boards of trade in Ulster county for the benefit of the entire community.

Joseph Drake, the able and untiring secretary of the Ulster County Society, was a guest of honor at the chamber's November dinner.

It is the expectation of President McCausland and Secretary Drake, of the Ulster County Society, and of the officers of the Chamber of Commerce that definite co-operation of great value can be carried out in 1920.

15. Friends and Neighbors' Dinner.

A series of Chamber of Commerce dinners for the year 1919 culminated in a unique and very interesting friends and neighbors' dinner. The attendance was 188.

The Travelers Club attended in a body. President J. K. Lenke of the Anglo-Magneto Company, J. A. Wylie of the Kattermann & Mitchell Silk Company, and E. B. Cadwell, the new owner of the Campbell plant, representing Kingston's new industries, were welcomed and introduced to the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

There were representatives present of the Ulster County Society, Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association, Kingston Council, Commercial Travelers of America and the Saugerties, Ellenville, Stamford and Poughkeepsie boards of trade.

16. Prominent Speakers Brought Here.

Among the prominent speakers brought to Kingston by the Chamber of Commerce in 1919 have been Dean Joseph French Johnson of the New York University School of Commerce, Frederick C. Greene, state commissioner of highways; Major General John F. O'Ryan; Dr. B. M. Rastall, adviser to the National Retail Dry Goods Association and expert in industrial surveys; Roy Smith, manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce; and Representative Daniel Reed.

17. Control of Solicitations.

On the initiative of its retail trade board, the Chamber of Commerce has prepared and put into effect a plan for the protection of its members against unwarranted solicitations for program and similar advertising and for supposed charitable purposes.

This plan is similar to that used in Rochester and other cities.

All firms and individuals holding memberships in the chamber who wish to be protected by this plan have agreed not to consider any such advertisement or contribution until the plan has been registered at the office of the Chamber of Commerce and found not to conflict with the principles adopted by the chamber.

This plan has been generally accepted by the members of the chamber and there have already been cases in which it has prevented unjustified solicitations.

18. Retail Trade Board.

The retail trade board under the leadership of its efficient chairman, Rudolph Seale, has made a most creditable record of fruitful activity during 1919.

In addition to dress-up week, a successful Holiday Day in August and Fall Display Week in September.

It prepared a plan for uniform summer closing hours in July and August which was accepted by over seventy retailers and which greatly lessened the confusion which had existed in previous years.

It co-operated effectively with the automobile dealers in giving publicity to the Kingston Automobile Show.

It initiated consideration of automobile terminals and control of solicitations, and co-operated with the general body of the Chamber of Commerce in acting on these subjects.

It also originated a movement for signs at the city entrances. Discussion of this matter developed the fact that the city is to erect such signs in the spring. The matter of any needed action to supplement the work of the city will be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce at that time.

The retail board held a retailers' dinner at Lake Katrine in August. It requested and very generally secured statements from its members in regard to their wishes as to what program it should undertake. The suggestions which received the greatest support, viz., bus terminals and control of solicitations, have been already carried out.

Important matters are to be acted on by this board in 1920.

19. Clearing House For Dates on Public Meetings.

Owing to frequent cases in which two or more important public gatherings were held at the same time, the Federation of Women's Clubs requested the Chamber of Commerce to establish and maintain a clearing house for information in regard to the scheduled dates of meetings of public interest.

The chamber is now prepared to receive, file and give out this information. This plan should result in lessening conflict of dates.

This is one instance of co-operation between the Federation of Women's Clubs and the chamber, which is capable of large expansion through a broad field of mutual interest.

20. And the Most Important of All.

It would be hard to decide the comparative importance of the new industries, Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association, the work for better housing and many matters mentioned above.

There can be no question however as to what has been the greatest achievement of the Chamber of Commerce in 1919.

It has been the great progress made in establishing the habit of working together for the good of Kingston and the bringing about of a general spirit of aggressive faith and confidence in the future of Kingston.

This spirit has grown so strong that it is determining Kingston's attitude toward every new problem and is making it possible to do things that without it could hardly even be dreamed of.

It is impossible to treat in detail all the matters in which the Chamber of Commerce has been interested in 1919. An account is given below of a number of these some of which are equal in importance and in time and energy expended to the matters treated above.

Fire Prevention Day and Clean Up Week.

During the first week in May the Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of its special committee on fire prevention, C. V. A. Decker, chairman, arranged, in co-operation with the city administration, for the observance of clean up week and of a special fire prevention day.

A captain for the clean up campaign was placed in charge of each ward.

Speakers furnished by the New York State Board of Underwriters addressed audiences in Kingston theatres and visited each of the schools on fire prevention day.

Ulster County War Chest.

The Chamber of Commerce has furnished office space for the use of the Ulster County War Chest as headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. It has also given special clerical assistance to the War Chest from time to time.

Red Cross Roll Call Campaign.

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce served as publicity chairman in the third Red Cross roll call campaign.

Welcome Home Celebration.

The Chamber of Commerce assisted in the clerical work of the mayor's committee which had charge of the welcome home celebrations for returning service men in April and October.

Employment Service for Returning Service Men.

An employment service for the benefit of returning service men was established by the Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the employment committee of the mayor's committee for the welcoming of returned service men.

General Employment Work.

No attempt has been made by the Chamber of Commerce to maintain a general employment service since an adequate service would require a special department for which necessary funds have not been available.

It has been the practice of the Chamber of Commerce, however, to give incidental service to employers seeking workers and to workers seeking work.

A considerable number of placements have been made.

Freemason's Convention.

The president, chairman of the retail board and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, are members of the general and executive committees appointed by the volunteer committee to make arrangements for the Hudson Valley convention, which will be held in Kingston June 15, 16 and 17, 1920.

The chamber will co-operate in making this 1920 convention as successful as the one held in Kingston five years ago.

O'Ryan Lecture.

The Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the city committee of the Fifth Liberty Loan, brought Major General John F. O'Ryan to Kingston to give his lecture on the experience of the 27th Division.

This lecture, held in the High School Auditorium, was largely attended.

Automobile Club.

The members of the Chamber of Commerce were guests of the Automobile Club of Ulster county at its annual meeting.

Indusenzia After-Care.

The Chamber of Commerce co-operated in the organization of a Kingston city committee to study the conditions resulting from the influenza epidemic in the autumn of 1918.

This committee employed a social worker to visit families in which there had been cases of influenza.

This investigation provided data which has been very useful to the social welfare organizations of the city in their work with respect to the after-care of influenza cases.

Rondout Bridge.

The Chamber of Commerce has maintained a constant interest in hastening the construction of the Rondout creek bridge.

Commissioner of Highways Frederick C. Greene addressed the members of the chamber at its August dinner, explaining his plans for this work.

A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., chairman, is in constant touch with Commissioner Greene in regard to the bridge matter.

It is of the greatest importance to Kingston and because of the importance of the highway along the west bank of the Hudson river, to the entire state that this bridge be completed at the earliest possible moment.

Central Hudson Freight.

A conference held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms between President Odell and officers of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company, and Kingston shirt manufacturers, resulted in the reaching of a satisfactory understanding with respect to the method of packing for shipment.

National and State Organizations.

An exceedingly important part of the Chamber of Commerce opened the year 1919 with a deficit of $620.70 and with a considerable debt in the form of old accounts, the largest of which had been contracted before the organization of the present Chamber of Commerce.

It opens the year 1920 with a balance to its credit of $725.16 and with all old accounts settled.

The only accounts outstanding against it are the small current bills of December 1919 which are carried in the January disbursements and which are less than the dues for 1919 received since January 1, 1920.

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

REDS FLEEING FROM NEW YORK

To Escape Arrest—Hundreds of Flynn Men Fled to Hall Half of Those Under Arrest—Hundreds of Warrants Yet to be Served.

By Telegraph to The Freeman
New York, Jan. 7.—Hundreds of communists or members of other "red" organizations were reported to be fleeing from this city today to escape arrest by federal agents. Some were said to be headed toward the Canadian border, while others planned to seek shelter with friends in other cities.

The so-called "soviet embassy" is virtually deserted with Ludwig Martens, the "soviet ambassador," out of town and Gregory Weinstein, the "chancellor," under arrest on Governor's Island. Weinstein is charged with being "a dangerous alien."

A fund is being raised for the defense of the prisoners. Elizabeth G. Flynn, who has charge of it, said today that enough money is on hand now to bail out half the prisoners. However, the government will refuse to liberate the prisoners on bail until after their preliminary hearing before a special inquiry board, which is conducting the deportation proceedings.

Chief William Flynn and his department of justice agents still have hundreds of warrants to serve.

SPALT PLAYS WITH ALBANY

Jack Spalt, the well known baseball pitcher and basketball player of this city, has been signed by the Albany professional basketball team in the State Basketball League, and makes his first appearance with the Senators tonight against the Adams five, playing center for Albany.

Manager Hopstall, of the Albany team, states that Spalt will strengthen the team, which has been weak in the pivot position, and that the Kingston boy is one of the best semi-professional pivot men along the Hudson river.

MEXICAN KILLS PORTER, AMERICAN

Washington, Jan. 7.—Gabriel Porter, an American citizen in the employ of the Penn Mexico Company, was shot and killed by a Mexican federal army officer at Tuxpan, Mexico, on December 31, according to advices received by the state department today. Details of the affair are lacking.

The advices of the killing of Porter were received from the American consul at Tampico. He was immediately asked to report full details to the department of state, and if warranted to urge the arrest and punishment of the federal officer who did the shooting.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham Bonner

THE ROOSTER'S IDEAS.

Nick and Nancy had come home again. They had left their cousin feeling very happy for all now were such good friends, and they were better friends than ever before after the visit, which made everything very nice to tell to Daddy. Some of the animals from the barnyard belonging to the house where the cousins lived, had been taken over by Daddy, for the cousins were going to move to the city, and they wanted their animals to be among friends. They had only taken their dog with them.

Sir Benjamin Baron and Sir Percival Pig, two of the leading pigs of the pig pen were having a fight over some food, but Mr. Red Crown Rooster was paying no attention to them. Nick and Nancy had been feeding all the animals and now they were listening to Mr. Rooster, who was talking at the top of his voice, or crowing, as his talk is usually called.

"In the good old days," said Mr. Rooster, "folks paid attention to me. They may think a lot of Miss Fidelity Fashionable Hen now that her eggs have become so scarce, but they don't pay half enough attention to a good-natured, kindly old rooster."

"Now, last summer I had a narrow escape. I was crossing the road when one of these horrible dust throwers came along. By a dust thrower I mean a motor car or an automobile, or whatever it is they are called."

"This one had the usual horn horn attached to it and how that horn did toll. I hurried out of the way and I was almost nearly run over. I might have lost my life. True, they did warn me they were coming."

"But what upsets creatures more are. The very idea of telling a fellow to get out of the way in such a rude manner. And think of the service I have always done people."

"I have awakened them in the morning. True, they have grumbled. They have said that just because I was an early riser it was no reason I should try to wake people up. But I knew what was good for them."

"I knew they shouldn't be staying in bed so long. I know they should be getting up and enjoying the sunlight and working and not wasting time."

"I feel a friendly feeling for that alarm clock Nick and Nancy talk about. That alarm clock gets abused too. It seems to my rooster mind that alarm clocks lead very sad lives. They see that children aren't late to school and that men aren't late to business and that ladies see that the breakfast is on time but they get thanked for it?"

"Not a bit of it. I've heard people say."

"Oh I could have killed that old alarm clock this morning. I was having a nice sleep and it didn't care, in the least."

"Now, the alarm clock was doing its duty. It was seeing that whoever was in the room with it wasn't late. That was most important. So I feel a friendly feeling for the alarm clock for I have been abused, too."

"But I could stand all that if only I could still be the king of the barnyard. Now that motor has come along the motor horn is treating us all as slaves, making us rush this way and that, from one side of the road to the other. I am against all things modern. I'm for the good old days when a crowing rooster was thought to be a creature worth while."

"It may be all right for Miss Fidelity Fashionable Hen to live in these modern days, but they are sad days for the rooster."

"What are you growing about, old Red Crown?" asked Nick.

"Yes, you have a lot to say for yourself," said Nancy.

"I'm dreading the summer and the automobiles," said Red Crown.

"But the summer has just past," said Nancy. "You shouldn't be so upset and you do seem upset about something. I guess I'll give you an extra handful of grain."

"I'm dreading next summer," said Red Crown. "I feel a little better now. I've two good friends in a good old barnyard, after all. Maybe the automobile will go out of date and the motor birds of the air, the airplanes will take their place. Then they'll toss their horns for creatures to get off the clouds and the good old crows of the barnyard will rule as they used to rule. In that case I'm for the days to come."

"But I do dread next summer, for this last one has been a hard, hard one," he ended.

Mary Still Lives.

Mary was the star Junior Red Cross pupil in her school in a mid western city. She held the record for Junior Red Cross work, and was expected to hold the record as a Junior Knight in the health crusade some morning in 1919.

Mary was her teacher on the stage and dramatic up to her ears, and she was her teacher in the great hall, as if she were the mightiest goddess. "Oh, Mary, Mary, Mary," they all said, "I'm still breathing."

ANDERSON DOUBTS SMITH SINCERITY

By Telegram to The Freeman
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 7.—William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, this afternoon issued a statement questioning Governor Smith's good faith in recommending that the ratification of New York state of the national prohibition act be rescinded, and that the people of New York state be given a say on the state's stand on the liquor question.

He charges that the governor's solicitude for the liquor traffic and not for good government.

"This message shows," Anderson's statement reads, "that his elevation to the governorship has not relieved him from his servile allegiance to the saloons and brewery interests that characterized his legislative record."

Lawrence Reinhardt

Lawrence Reinhardt of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was the only American soldier convicted of treason during the great war, has been released by order of Secretary Baker after an investigation. Reinhardt enlisted in the regular army at the start of the war and went to France with the 34th Infantry of the Second Division. During a German raid on the American lines Reinhardt and an American captain, were made prisoners. Upon their release, following the signing of the armistice, the captain wrote that Reinhardt had given the Germans information. Reinhardt said that his statements to the captain.

German officers were untrue and intended to be misleading. He was convicted by a court martial, however, and sentenced to twenty years at Fort Leavenworth. Representative Stangel of New York became interested in Reinhardt's case, and Secretary of War Baker ordered an investigation, which was followed by the soldier's release.

William Phillips

William Phillips, third assistant secretary of state, who sailed for Europe last week, was called for by the New York January 2. Secretary of State Phillips would not discuss his statements to the captain.

Lady Jellicoe

Lady Jellicoe, wife of Admiral Jellicoe, commander of the British Grand Fleet at the battle of Jutland, sailed for England several years ago. She is now in the United States, where she is at present in Washington, and will continue her tour of the United States and Canada.
